The inspiration of Paul Gauguin, famed painter and pioneer in the post impressionist art movement, were Tahitian women. The women on this small island are renowned for their beauty, which many believe stems from the water that surrounds them.

Tahiti is famous not only for its breathtaking landscape, but also its sparkling and clear azure blue water. The many springs and waterfalls that adorn the island are protected from the world's pollutants by the islands lush rainforests. The volcanic rocks that line the riverbeds also naturally filter the water that runs into the sea. Considered to be among the most pristine in the world, Tahitian seawater has been described as a natural elixir capable of enhancing beauty.

Tahitian seawater is said to soak away the stresses of modern life, whether or not that is true, it is rich in minerals that grant it properties a kin to European mineral water spa treatments that condition, fortify and rejuvenate the skin. Seawater is also understood to have cleansing and detoxifying properties; many high-end salons around the globe recommend seawater treatments for their clientele. ABS Tahitian Sea Water comes from a tiny and remote lagoon that hugs the Tahitian coast.

ABS Tahitian Sea Water delivers the therapeutic benefits of the Tahitian Sea for use in a variety of skin and hair care applications.
